

Little Black's Story Game!

As you can tell, Little Black loves telling stories. Here is a fun game you can play with others in your household, or with some of your friends via email or "snail mail."

Directions: Little Black will write the first few sentences of a story. Then he will pass the story to you, and you can write a few sentences of the story. Then you can pass it to someone in your household, or email or mail it to one of your friends.

They can write the next few sentences, and then pass it on to someone else (or pass it back to you). Make it as long and silly as you want. See what surprises you, your friends, and family will put into the story!

You can also complete the drawing of Little Black with details from your story!

Here are Little Black's first few sentences of the story:

Little Black was grazing in the jump field one beautiful day in April. He was enjoying the sunshine on his back, and the spring grass in his mouth. But suddenly, his relaxing, normal day turned into the most extraordinary day he has ever had! It all started when he looked up and saw... !

What did Little Black see? What made his day go from relaxing and normal to extraordinary? Continue writing the story and add to the drawing with your own ideas for adventures!
