

Crossing the River of Imagination

Would you like to go on an adventure like Wall*E and Berry (aka Midnight and Moonlight)? Well the good news is, you can! They crossed a desert, escaped from a cougar, found an oasis, built a raft, swam through sharks, and rescued their wild horse friends, all without even leaving the ranch! Where can you go without leaving your house?

The first challenge in your adventure is to cross the River of Imagination. It is a swift and dangerous river, so you will need to build yourself a raft. Do you have any good raft supplies around? Of course you do! Anything will work: pillows, towels, cardboard boxes, sticks, recycling... the list goes on. How big will your raft be? Is it just you on the raft, or are others coming with you? How will you steer and paddle? Does your raft have a sail? Do you need to bring food or other supplies with you on your raft?

Let your imagination carry you away!
